The Official Newsletter of the Blue Valley Quilt Guild

April 2016 Issue

From the Pres . . .

It always amazes me how much talent surrounds us at quilt guild. One of my favorite times of the meeting is show and share. I love seeing all the projects everyone has been working on and completed. Whenever I see a pattern I like I want to take a mental picture, thinking wouldn't it be fun to make that.

Thank you to Linda Riesberg for sharing her love of dolls and small quilts. I'm sure it brought back memories of when we were little girls, and when our own girls were little. I was going through a closet and found a doll quilt I had made for our girls. Instead of tucking it back on the shelf, I set it out where I can see it. Makes me smile.....and remember. Thanks again Linda.

We have a busy year ahead of us. Lori has come up with some great challenges and ideas. Has anyone started the color challenge?

We have a good start on selling the quilt raffle tickets. Keep up the good work.

Susan Minchow and Maralee Meyer will present, "Improving Your Binding Techniques", at the April meeting.

Remember: Wear your name tag, loose a quarter; Bring 3 favorite notions you like along with some Show and Share. Mona

UFO Challenge 2016 BVQG

To kick off the New Year we are going to rev things up with a UFO Challenge.

So, dig through your sewing stash and find your top 6 must get done UFO's and register them at the next meeting you attend.

You can join in at any time. There will be small prize for the monthly winner and a grand prize winner anointed at the end of the November 2016 meeting.

Don't forget to pack your 2 fat quarter/50 cents entry fee. Then bring your list on an 8.5" x 11" sheet of paper and give it to the guild secretary.

On your list we need:

- Your name
- Name of the project
- Age of the project, AND Size (mini/wall hanging, throw, twin, queen, king, or clothing)

Stage of progress

This challenge will hopefully generate some buzz, clean up some long ago stored projects, and give you motivation and something to submit to our quilt show! Every skill level can participate and no matter who is crowned the Queen we all win by getting something done. The idea is to have a little fun and, if you're good, end the six months with fewer UFO's than when you started!

African American Quilts from the Cargo Collection until May 25

On many levels, we get to know others—and ourselves—better through quilts.

Antique quilts provide windows into the past. And in understanding them, we gain greater insight into our own heritage.

Global quilts help us appreciate other cultures. From India to Indiana, domestic textiles like quilts reveal the diversity of the world's people and remind us of our common humanity.

The quilts in our daily lives—whether gifts or self-made—connect us to others, as do works by artists exploring new aesthetic and conceptual territory. While our individual lives are unique, we can all relate to the stories and ideas embedded in quilts.

By teaching us about previous generations, helping us experience new cultures, or revealing personal stories, looking at quilts gives us the opportunity to connect.
